Foreword

Throughout the ages of man, anything that tended to lead upwards represented the desires and attempts of man to reach his goals. And so it is with the staircase, a symbol of man's constant effort to achieve higher steps in life. Much as the staircase, the high school is a means of developing the abilities of man and achieving these goals which man desires. For this reason, the theme for the 1967 Cardinal yearbook was centered about a staircase.

Yet, this staircase is not an ordinary staircase, but a down staircase, a type of staircase in larger schools on which students are to go down only. But only the average, every-day, American student would have the gumption to go "Up the Down Staircase". Thus, the theme "Up the Down Staircase", based on Bel Kaufman's book by the same name, was chosen so as to give the reader both a serious and comical view of school life. Whatever phase of school life it might touch, we of the yearbook staff, have attempted to present to you both sides of the life in Hoisington High.

Administration

New Principal Teams With Superintendent

Constantly working together, Hoisington's Superintendent, Mr. Walter Smith, and the High School Principal, Mr. Dick Baker, have led the students through another year. What the school has accomplished is only a reflection of the strong influence these two personages have had over the school body.

During his ninth year at Hoisington, Mr. Smith has again presented a fine record of supervision by initiating various new programs of educational improvements. Mr. Baker has spent his first year at Hoisington by introducing many ideas that were new to the students. Yet, these two busy figures, while always attending to school business, have found time to mingle with the students and become more than just leaders, but also integral parts of the school.

SEATED: President, Lloyd Jaynes; Wayne Stoskopf; Vice-President, Vic Hoffman
 STANDING: Dr. Robert Moore; Dr. Keith Ritter; Tony Chambers

First Year As District #431 Board

Mr. Baker discusses policy with Mr. Wayne Stoskopf.

Little known to the students, and yet one of the most important bodies of the school system is the school board. This year it is under the Unified District #431. Its duties include hiring teachers, and other school employees, determining salaries, and setting the school budget. Trying to make the school the best possible, the board takes into consideration any major business concerning the school.

Faculty

English And Speech

English and speech classes offer to the students the opportunity to strengthen their ability of speaking and writing fluent English. As time goes on, this ability is becoming more and more a necessity in all walks of life. With four years of English required and speech at an option, the average Hoisington High student graduates with exceptional ability in this field.

MR. KEN JONES/American & World History

The social studies impress the importance of today's happenings upon the future of mankind. The growing need for physical fitness in modern competitive times has led to an increase in this area of our school. Along with this is taught the fundamentals in first aid and safety.

MR. JIM CULBERTSON/Phys. Ed.

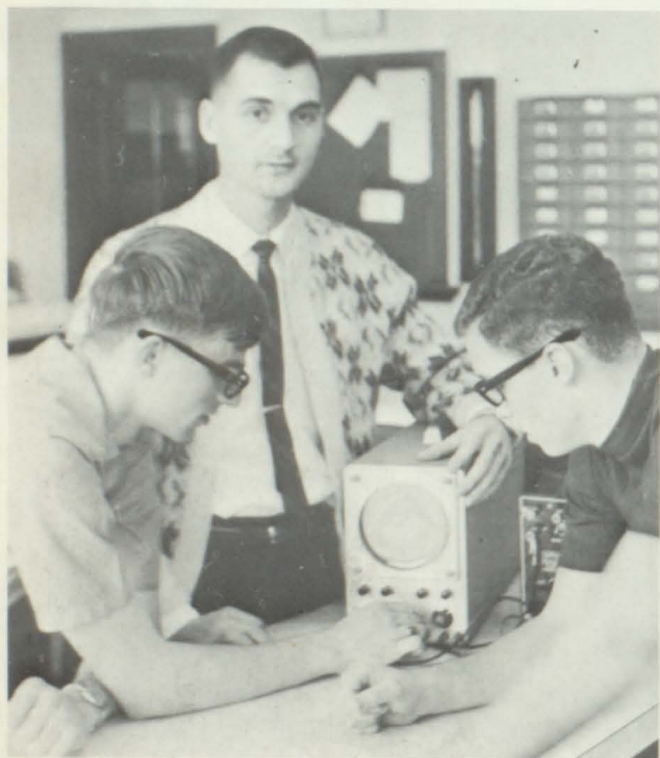

MR. ROBERT BENIGNUS/Algebra, Geometry
/Advanced Math

Science and Math

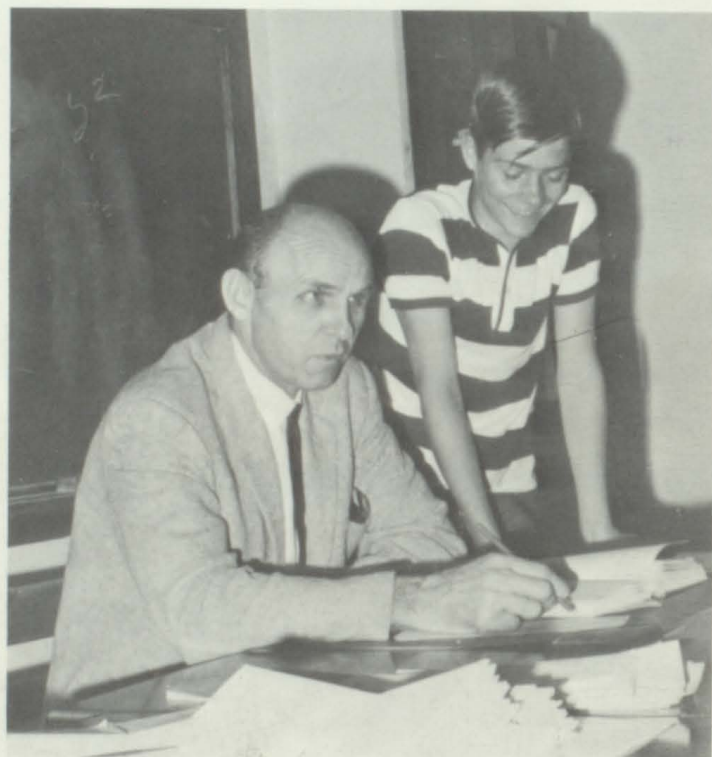

In the modern world of today, the importance of scientific and mathematical knowledge is quite evident. Many of today's students will make a career in either of these fields. To help prepare these students for such careers, the school offers various advanced courses in both science and mathematics. All other students are also required to take two classes in each of these fields, thus giving them a fuller education.

Arts And Music

Art and music have given the students a touch of culture amidst all the fact-finding subjects at Hoisington High. Whether in either department, the students have learned a means of producing entertainment and enjoyment in the form of music and art.

During the year the music department preforms various concerts for the public; the art departments show in their displays the handiworks done by the students.

MR. LEE DICKS/Band

MR. ELTON BROWN/Manual Arts

MR. TOM NEVILLS/Art & Journalism

MR. GENE LENTZ/Vocal Music

Commerce and Language

Various commerce subjects have been offered to Hoisington students in order to prepare them to meet the business world. Not only are the students given basic skills and knowledge, but also they are prepared to meet both professional and personal economic problems.

Hoisington High also offers two foreign languages, Spanish and French. A student may carry through in French for four years. A language lab is used in both of these courses.

MR. FRED GRABHORN/Business & Math

MR. RAMON MUNGIA/Spanish

MR. JOHN REED/Business Math & Drafting

MR. GERALD KERN/Typing and Shorthand

Vocational and Special

Teachers must be a special kind of people because only teachers can plan it so that a student has several tests on the same day; only teachers will expect a student to be two places at the same time; and only teachers can give too much home work. Yet, the teacher is that important part of the school which transports to the students something which can never be taken away from them. That "something", of course, is knowledge.

Employees

Regardless of bad weather or breakdowns, the bus drivers have again achieved a fine safety record for transporting students.

Faced with the huge task of keeping the school neat and clean, the janitors have conducted their work in a much to be expected manner, constantly keeping in mind that the atmosphere under which students study will definitely affect school life as a whole.

As attendants to the business faction of the school system, the secretaries have again proven their invaluable aid in assisting the students and serving the principal and superintendent.

Seniors

HIGH

SCH

As the Seniors of 1967 began their last year at Hoisington High, a feeling of responsibility and an awareness of the future were developed by most of them. This realization of the importance of their status was reflected in the constant determination of the Seniors to make this year their best one.

As the year progressed, Seniors began making plans and preparations for their future. College entrance exams, armed forces tests, and occupational tests have helped the Seniors to decide their post-graduate lives.

As leaders of the school, the Seniors played an important part in the many school activities, especially the Prom and Jr. -Sr. Play.

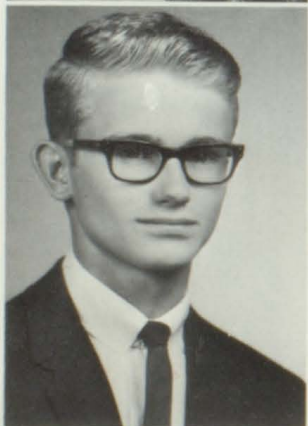

The many memories of the bygone days in Hoisington High were quite apparent as 98 Seniors attended Baccalaureate on May 14 and received their diplomas on May 18. Thus, the books were closed, the classes were ended, and the Seniors took their leave, never more to return as students of Hoisington High.

As the members of the Freshman class entered the halls of Hoisington High on the first day of school, they found themselves in a strange and new world. Unknowing of the ways and means of high school life, these novices blundered and toiled as that day of notoriety passed.

However, as the year passed on, these same awkward frosh soon became relatively capable of leading a normal school life. Their unseemingly presence was soon felt throughout the school as they slowly, but surely blended into the background.

Personalities

Night of Splendor

In autumn's crisp magic, Elizabeth Ochs was crowned 1966 Football Homecoming Queen on October 14. In recognition of her honor, Queen Elizabeth received the traditional roses and kiss from her escort, Brent Jaynes. Members of her court were Debbie Boxberger, upper right, escorted by Duane Koester, and Sharon Smith, lower right, escorted by Clint Hutter.

Sweethearts

Y-Teen

Jeanette Monroe was selected by the Junior members of the Y-Teen cabinet as the 1967 Y-Teen Sweetheart. Her attendants were Charlene DeHaven and Elizabeth Ochs.

F F A

The 1967 F.F.A. Sweetheart, selected by the members of the club, was Anita Becker, attended by Judy Ochs and Mary Jane Brown. Anita reigned over the annual F.F.A. dance.

VARSITY B TEAM and COACHES

The 1966 football season was not significant as far as the record was concerned, yet, the Hoisington High squad did achieve success when they defeated Russell for the first time since 1960, and went on to defeat Stafford and Lyons in league competition. The year can be especially remembered for two very important improvements made in this department. First of all, the purchase of new uniforms made the Cardinals a well dressed team. Also, the addition of new locker and shower rooms have given the Cardinal teams facilities comparable to the best. The combination of these new lockers with the intense interest of the coaches has helped make the Cardinals a good-spirited team.

Freshman Show Great Promise

Freshman squad displayed strong determination, typical of Cardinal spirit.

Under the coaching of Mr. Myers, the Freshman football squad, consisting of twenty-four members, ended the season with a 2-3 win-loss record. The defeats over Larned and Great Bend were both reflective of the effort and determination of the players to make the season a successful one. The player's abilities and performances during the games gave slight preview of expected varsity action during the following years.

The highlight of the 1966-67 basketball season can well be remembered to be the winning of the Mulvane Invitational Tournament. Hoisington won over Caldwell with a score of 43-32 and then went on to defeat Anthony 58-47 to win the first place trophy.

Combining his well-known record with his intense interest in the boys, Coach Mr. John Hutter directed the varsity teams through what can be considered a very successful year.

Freshmen Gain Valuable Experience

Trying to make the season successful, fourteen young freshman boys, under Coach Mr. Charles Meyers, worked together at improving team effort and individual initiative as novice basketball players. Activities

Band Participates in Fort Hays Homecoming

Under the direction of Mr. Dicks, the Hoisington High School Band has again succeeded in creating a fine musical atmosphere throughout the school year.

In addition to the Concert Band, the fine performances of the brass sextet and clarinet choir have also enhanced the musical curriculum of Hoisington High.

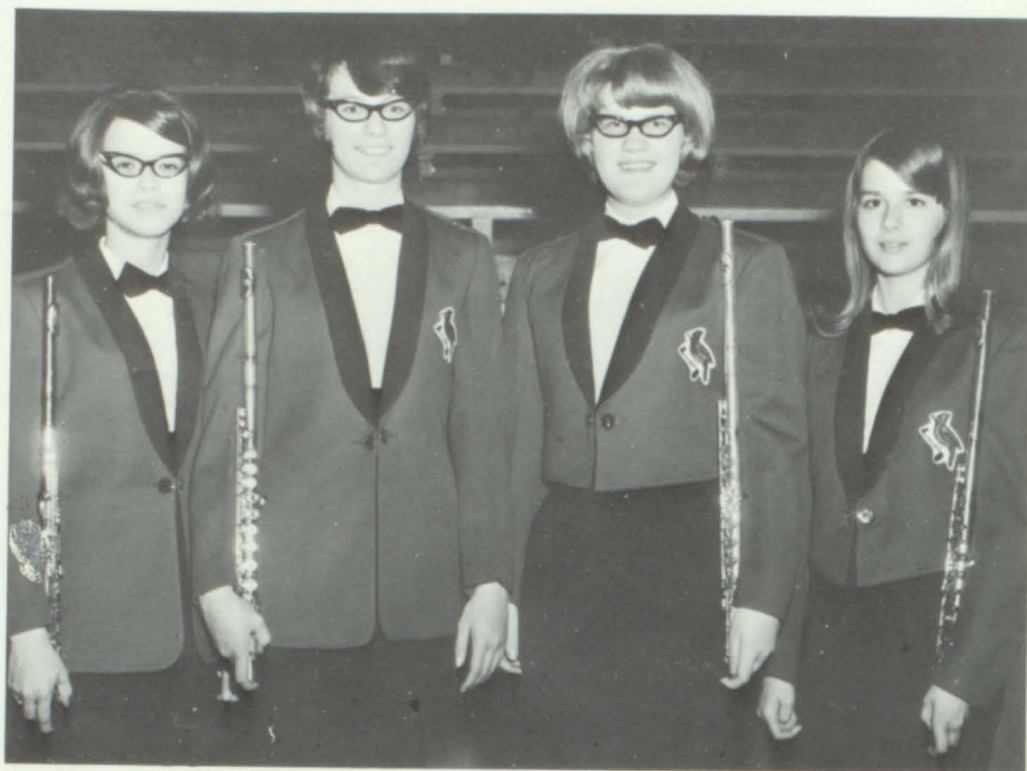

Besides performing at pep assemblies and athletic events, the band has displayed its talents at various concerts and contests. The Christmas Concert was presented December 8, followed by the Pops Concert on March 7 and the Spring Concert on April 17.

Band Ensembles

In reflection of the constant determination on the part of the members to create a good performing band, the ensembles rated well at the Sterling music contest, as well as at the League contest in Lindsborg. The groups then went on to repeat their fine performances at the State Contest at Cordia.

TWIRLERS: Theresa Witterstatter, Vicki Maddox, Sue Beck, Nancy Jones, Leslie Valerius, Jolene Sellens, and Debbie Mills

Gifted with a skill of precision and precise timing, these five young twirlers have led the band in marching at important school events throughout the year. Twirling for their first year at Hoisington High were Theresa Witterstatter, Sue Beck, and Debbie Mills. Third year twirlers were Nancy Jonas and Lesley Valerius. Twirling for their fourth and last year were Vickie Maddox and Jolene Sellens.

SECOND BOYS ENSEMBLES

Organized so that students may have a voice in school administration, Student Council created a new constitution at the beginning of the school year. The members also attended a workshop at St. John to learn their duties and discuss their problems, which they encounter as members.

During the year, Stuco has sponsored various dances, as well as Honors Assembly in May.

The 34 students in the 1966-67 debate squad wound up the year with an impressive record by winning ten trophies. First in Debate and Forensics in League competition, they went on to take fifth in State. The year-end fifty-nine percent average reflected the constant determination of the team.

The Fifth Annual Invitational Tournament was hosted by the squad.

Suzanne Tarlton

Three pretty young freshman girls have offered their talents during the past year as cheerleaders for freshman athletic events. These girls, under the direction of Miss Warburton, have produced a reverberating feeling of school spirit among all freshmen, thus encouraging the class athletes to produce a successful record in sports activities.

Despite various troubles and tribulations, the Cardinal cheerleaders have led the student body in expressing the great Cardinal spirit at pep assemblies and athletic events.

The girls show one of the feats they accomplished from the weeks of hard practice they went through to make this year's squad one of the greatest anywhere.

Such cooperation as has been seen among these cheerleaders, their sponsor, Miss Warburton, the Pep Club, and the student body would build pride within any school.

Arabesque

The annual Junior-Senior Prom, sponsored by the Junior class, was held the night of May 6. The gym was decorated with a fountain, palm trees, and three tents in keeping with the theme, "Arabesque". The center tent served as the bandstand, with the other two used as refreshment centers. Music was provided by Dan King and his orchestra. Gerald Whitt served as Master of Ceremonies. Other entertainment included solos by Diann Evers and RoJean Schmidt, two singing trios composed of David Smith, Gary Schwein, Stanley Karst, and RoJean Schmidt, Gary Schwein, and Stanley Karst. K. C. McAlexander also gave a dramatic reading.

Pennant for the Kremlin

Under the direction of David Deines, the 1967 Junior-Senior play, "A Pennant for the Kremlin", proved a great success with large attendances at both performances given on March 30. The comedy, which tells the story of the inheritance by the Russian government of an American professional baseball team and the hilarious incidents which follow, was well presented by the many Junior and Senior cast members. Such a performance was due to the fine cooperation among the cast members, student director, and the sponsor, Mr. Clay Thompson.

Cardinal and Chirp Staff

Up to their necks with deadlines, the Journalism staff has worked hard during the past year to make a bigger and better yearbook. The six members of "Red Baron's Crew", or so they were called, conducted a tremendous sales campaign with the hopes of making a new record.

Although less emphasis was given to the school newspaper than in past years, "The Chirp" still remained as a means of spreading school news among the students.

Initiates Thirteen

The 1967 installation of the thirteen new members of the Hoisington Chapter of National Honor Society was held on April 12. These new members, nine Seniors and four Juniors, were among several candidates from the upper twenty-five per cent of their classes. Voting by the candidates themselves and by the teachers in regards to Character, Service, Scholarship, and Leadership was the final action in the determination of the members.

NFL Receives Honors

The Hoisington Chapter of the National Forensic League, as the largest chapter in Class A and the seventh largest in the state, has completed another successful year. The organization, sponsored by Mr. Thompson, has succeeded in the following accomplishments: 1st place sweepstakes at Highland Park Tournament, 2nd place sweepstakes at Garden City Tournament, 1st place sweepstakes at C.P.L. Tournament in Ellinwood, twelve I's and seven II's at the State Speech Festival in Wichita. The group also sponsored the Preliminary Student Congress on April 22.

Promotes Spirit and Attendance

All students who wish to attend most of the school's athletic events can do so economically by joining the Athletic Association. This organization promotes school spirit and attendance at these athletic contests.

The officers of the organization attend to the selling of season tickets as well as individual tickets at the games.

Girls Learn Good Sportsmanship

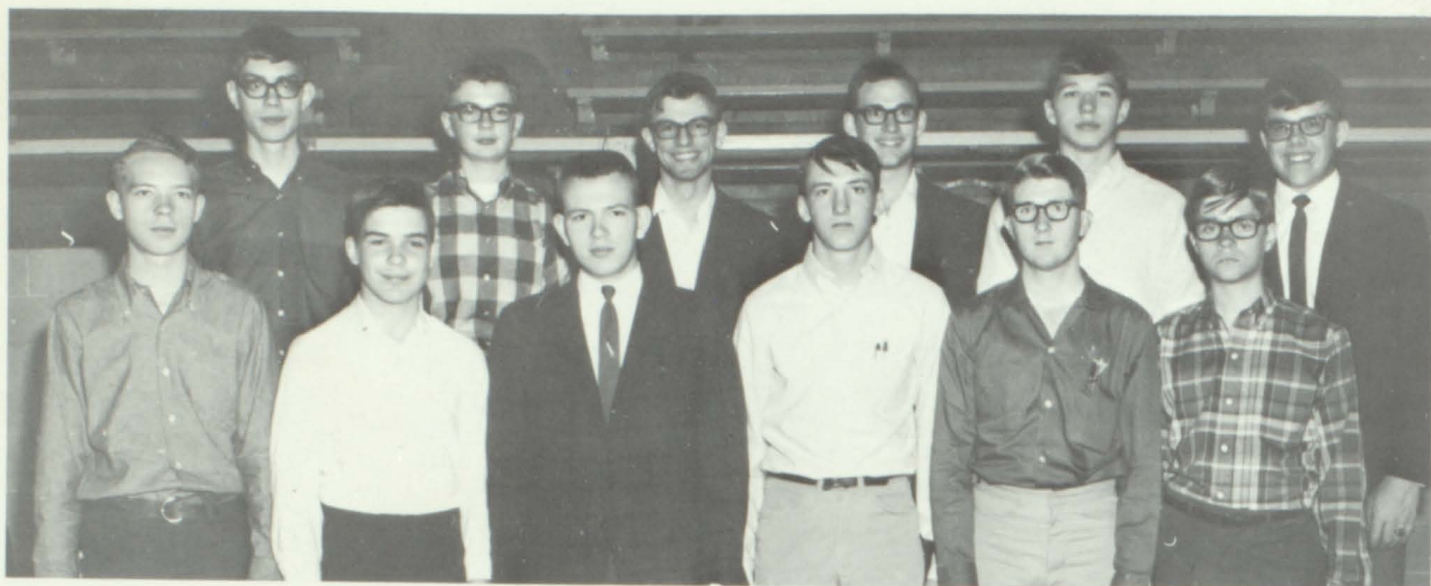

In order to provide athletic opportunities for girls, G.A.A. has been an active organization in Hoisington High School for a number of years. Some fifty girls have participated in the organization's activities during the past year and have thus increased their ability in sports such as basketball, bowling, and volleyball.

Anita Becker Crowned Queen

Consisting of twenty-nine members, the FFA has conducted another very active year. In the fall and winter months, the group conducted its annual Pest Control Contest. A Father-Son Chili Supper was also held. The annual FFA dance was held during the middle of the year. Anita Becker was crowned Queen with Judy Ochs and Mary Jane Brown as attendants. In the Spring, an oyster fry and fishing trip were held.

Quite successful with their projects, each separate class conducted projects with wheat, beef and dairy cattle, swine, milo, horses, and rabbits.

Hold Annual French Dinner

French Club began the year with an initiation week. The old members, or nobles, were served by the new members, or slaves.

Throughout the year, money-making projects were conducted by the group. These included the annual French dinner in October which served approximately seventy-five people, food sales throughout the year, and a concession stand during the basketball season.

Club meetings were usually spent learning various phases of life of the French people. In March, members traveled to Hays to view a French movie.

Students Study Spanish Culture

At the beginning of its second year in Hoisington High, Spanish Club entered a float in the homecoming parade, taking second place honors. Fiestas were held during the year, thus enabling the members to enjoy a part of the typical Spanish life. Members also enjoyed eating Mexican foods at a Spanish restaurant.

Besides the regular dues, a concession stand and a Chili supper were held to supplement the Club's expenses.

Make Plans For New Uniforms

Consisting of about 140 girls, Pep Club is organized to provide leadership and enthusiasm in school spirit. Besides yelling during the athletic contests, these girls have been responsible for decorating the gym and stadium, preparing the hoop, and presenting skits during pep assemblies. The organization has sponsored the cheerleaders and were the organizers of homecoming. The Club's constant work and support of the school's athletic teams is an inspiring reflection of an undying desire for success.

Towards the end of the school year, the meetings were spent planning the uniform that will be worn next year. This will be the first year for identical uniforms and they will be required for any girl who wishes to join the Cardinal Pep Club. The uniforms will be simple A-line skirts and V necked vests with pull-over knit shirts.

Beautiful-Legs Contest

As an innovation to their many activities, Y-Teens sponsored a "Beautiful Legs" contest with the Senior varsity football players as candidates. Students voted for their choice of candidates by placing pennies in the appropriate container. Upon completion of the voting, Bob Moller was announced as the winner, and, in recognition of the honor, Liz Ochs presented him with a blue garter, as can be seen in the picture below.

Y-Teens Sponsor "Ten Commandments"

In order to fulfill and spread the Christian virtues, Y-Teens have conducted many worthwhile projects during the last year. During the previous summer, the president attended Y-Teen Camp. In the early fall, the members attended the District Y-Teen Conference and in October Charlene DeHaven served as State Inter-Club Member.

The organization served as co-sponsor of the Thanksgiving and Christmas meditations. Each month, the members prepared favor trays for the hospital and nursing homes. Various other activities included the sponsoring of the movie "The Ten Commandments" in December, sponsoring the clothing drive in the spring, and hosting the Father-Daughter Banquet in April and the Mother-Daughter Tea and Installation in May.

Mrs. Easterly and Kathy Tempero look over plans for next year.

The year has come to an end. The time has come to close. What has been accomplished within this yearbook can only be a reflection of what has been accomplished within the school year by each and every individual student.

During the 1966-67 school year in Hoisington High, each student has in some way gone Up the Down Stair Case. Whether it was by participation in the many activities, sports, and organizations or by academic pursuits, each student played his part in making Hoisington High the school it is.

The joys, the sorrows, the pains, the glories--all the characteristics of the school year - are reflected in this book in order to give the reader not only the knowledge of what took place but also an emotional response to what has taken place. This then, has been the purpose of this yearbook to let the reader know just what it is like to go Up the Down Staircase.
